Last Day For Tax Payments In the County

POLL TAXES SLOW DURING FINAL PERIOD

All Taxes Delinquent for 1934 If Not Paid Today

AUTO TAGS FRIDAY

Collectors' Forces Are In Final Rush of the Season

Today is the last day for payment of 1934 taxes. The penalty will be added to all 1934 taxes which are not settled with the tax collectors by tonight.

The bill which remitted the penalty and interest on 1933 taxes and those of all former years does not apply to the 1934 taxes, which will become delinquent if not paid today.

Tax collections have been brisk this week, but the last minute rush is being experienced in greater degree today than on any previous closing day.

Only 700 poll taxes had been paid by Tuesday. This means that practically 1400 qualified voters of the county had not paid their poll taxes for the year. Those who fail to make this payment today will not be able to vote in any elections which are held during this year. Furthermore, those with real estate will have the poll tax added to their tax bill whenever they do get around to the payment of the property tax.

Automobile license plates for 1935 will be available starting Friday morning. A change in the law made it impossible to pay for the license plates before this date. It is expected that car owners will make payments promptly in order to have their cars equipped with the new license plates.

Hardware Dealers Will Meet Monday Annual Convention

Hardware dealers of the Panhandle will gather in Amarillo Monday and Tuesday for the 26th annual convention of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association.

C. L. Thompson of Canyon is secretary of the association and has mailed the program to all members of the association. Great interest is being shown in the convention, and it is expected that a record crowd will attend.

Mr. Thompson has been re-elected year after year in recognition of the efficient work he has done for the organization.

All local hardware dealers are expecting to attend the convention program.

Illustrated Bok on Palo Duro By Forester Found

An illustrated pamphlet of the Palo Duro canyon, published more than 30 years ago by the New York & Texas Land Company, has been placed in the Museum for preservation.

The book was prepared by H. H. Chapman, of the National Forest Service.

Fred E. Wortham, formerly secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, located the book recently. No other copies of the book are known to be in this section of the state.

The description of Mr. Chapman is very accurate, as he spent much time in its preparation. The photographs are excellent . An accompanying map shows the various formations in the Palo Duro.

Trying for New Air Speed Mark

Carrying on from where an ill-fated comrade left off, Lieut. Richard L. Burke, U. S. coast guard pilot, is shown boarding his plane at Cape May, N. J., for a try at a new speed record for seaplanes. Chamber Commerce Day Will Be Continued in February

The Chamber of Commerce Day will be continued through February according to a decision reached by the 64 business and professional firms which are co-operating with this organization in making Saturday a big bargain day in Canyon.

Business firms which have been co-operating have been asked to make attractive bargains on Saturdays for the hundreds of citizens of Randall county who are coming here to do their week's buying.

The co-operative day was started in December and has been carried through December and January. Chamber of Commerce officials state that it will continue through February, and possibly March and April, if there is sufficient interest shown by the people in the feature. Every citizen of Randall county has been extended a very urgent invitation to be in Canyon on Saturday and to participate in the trading bargains which are offered by the business and professional firms.

At 3:30 there will be a bronc riding contest in the lot back of the Relief Office. This is being sponsored by Bob Johnson and C. W. Mariner. There will be no admission charges Saturday.

President Honored in Legion Ball at The Legion Hall

The Palo Duro Post gave a ball last night in honor of President Roosevelt's birthday. This was a part of the nation wide plan in holding balls over the nation to raise funds to fight diseases among children.

Ray Cheney and Rex Hill left Tuesday with J. J. Richardson, who will enter a hospital at Claremore, Oklahoma.

NEW OFFICE TO BE READY BY SATURDAY

Enlargement Will Give Much Needed Space to Agent

ALL RE-FINISHED

Large Amount of Business Handled By Agent

County Agent W. H. Upchurch will be established in his remodeled offices in the court house by Saturday, if his plans mature.

For the past three weeks Mr. Upchurch has held open house to the farmers in the west end of the corridor, the Chamber of Commerce room and in the office of Miss Sadie Kate Bass, while his office was being remodeled.

The former office of Mr. Upchurch has been completely remodeled and repainted. Another room has been added which will greatly relieve the congestion that has existed in the past during rush hours.

The furniture has been refinished, together with all woodwork, walls, ceiling and floor of the offices. Several new pieces of furniture have been added to take care of the increased amount of work being transacted under the direction of the County Agent.

The feed loan committee will not move from the present Chamber of Commerce office since this work is separate from the other duties of the County Agent. Mrs. James Cole will continue the feed loans at the present office.

The County Agent's office has greatly expanded in scope of work during the past year since the

SPOKE AT PAMPA

Dr. Harris M. Cook was in Pampa last night to address the members of the Junior High School faculty. His subject was "The Teachers' Contribution to Curriculum Revision in Texas."

Miss Trula Griffitts of Omaha, Nebraska, left for her home last Saturday. Miss Griffitts had been a house guest of Mrs. R. N. Barnett for the past week.

Many New Students To Enter for Semester Work

Registration for the second semester's work in W. T. opened yesterday with a number of new students on hand ready for the start of the new period's work.

Figures were not available as to the number of new students who will enter the College for the semester, but a large number enrolled yesterday.

From all indications very few of the students who have been here for the first semester will withdraw.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women, reported that very few rooming houses keeping girls had reported vacancies to her as a result of old students leaving at the close of the first period.

Dr. Harris M. Cook, Dean of Men, states that the same condition prevails as to the rooming houses which keep boys.

Many of the old students took the opportunity of the ending period to go home for a few days, many of them will not return for work before the first of next week.

Classes are meeting this morning to organize and all work will start tomorrow for the second semester.

160 Men Engaged Several Projects On Campus

PROGRESS MADE

Recreation House Walls Being Laid Rapidly By Force

Rapid progress is being made on campus improvements of W. T. since these are the only projects which have been approved by the State Relief office for the 163 men working on the relief rolls.

No action has been taken at Austin on widening highway No. 9 through Canyon. Nothing has been heard from the topping project of Goodnight Trail. Final approval has not been made of the dormitory projects. The Relief office at Austin has withheld approval of all lateral road projects. During this tie up of other projects, the campus improvement projects are benefited by having the full crew of men.

Discovery of a ledge of rock west of Canyon, almost like granite in hardness and in appearance has greatly benefited the projects under way. C. H. Jarrett, president of the Canyon Athletic Club, and Al Baggett, coach of W. T., made the discovery. Just how far the ledge projects has not been ascertained, but it is believed that there is a sufficient quantity of this rock to finish all projects under way, and provide building materials for other rock projects in prospect.

About 40 men are employed daily getting this rock out, ready for the trucks. Six trucks are employed in hauling the rock to the campus.

Crews of men are engaged in the construction work on the campus. A dozen men are directed by Gus Miller in the construction of the recreation center of Buffalo Courts. The wall of this building is nearly to the top of the windows of the first story. The wall will will be about 18 feet high. Mr. Miller is working beautiful designs

Fifty New Books Added to Library and More to Come

The library committee has ordered fifty new books for the Randall County library, the major part of which will be on the shelves early next week. The books were selected from the lists which were submitted to the Librarian, Miss Fannie Malone.

The library committee will have only about $400 to buy new books and meet other incidental expenses during the year, so that the money available for new books must of necessity be for those volumes for which there is the largest demand.

Interest in the library is increasing greatly each week, with several new readers being added daily. The library has about 1925 volumes now, and the committee hopes to increase this to 2,000 during the coming month.

There is great need for the donation of magazines, books, and cash in order to improve the library as rapidly as the reading public is demanding.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at Canyon, Texas, as second class matter. Published weekly at office, 1513 Fourth Avenue, Canyon, Texas.

The Canyon News was the first newspaper to point out the fact that the movement for conservation of natural gas was being urged by the big pipe lines which were delivering millions of feet of gas to other sections of the United States. All of a sudden these big companies, or perhaps it is only one company operating under different names, refused to take the gas ratably from the Panhandle field, but chose a plan whereby their wells dotted over the Panhandle would draw from the entire section. That was not a square deal to the land owners who did not have an outlet for their gas, excepting through the wells of the big pipe line companies, for which he was receiving nothing. As a result the legislature made it legal to use this gas for purposes which would bring some small return to the land owners. True it is, the condition is deplorable when so much gas is blown into the air in order to get a little revenue. But whatsoever the land owners are now receiving is real cash, which he needs, while under the old order of things the pipe lines were getting this same gas without any cost to themselves or return to the small land owners. A vigorous campaign has been waged out of Amarillo trying to get the people to urge action on the legislature in stopping this waste. The pipe lines need never have gone to this expense in conducting this campaign had they been willing for a ratably taking of gas from the entire field, and given each land owner something for the gas they were taking. The News believes it is a very great mistake in dissipating this great natural resource, but refuses to get bothered because the pipe lines have brought this situation upon themselves.

Those who have been crying out against the increased cost of government, should note that Governor Allred has asked for, and bills are pending, authorizing a state planning board. The initial cost will be only $12,000, but judging from past experience, the cost will mount year by year. The Governor has asked for two additional district courts, both of which have been granted. The legislature is inclined to grant the Governor additional office employees for his office, more than any other governor has had. Year by year the people are expecting more from their government, but at the same time asking that they pay less to support their government. It is easy to create additional departments of government, but almost impossible to abolish any of them. Governor Allred has found it easy while in Austin to increase his departments. As Attorney General his force was greatly increased, and much greater space in the capitol was granted. Perhaps Governor Allred has been more successful than any other public official to convince the legislature that his departments were in real need. If he has a rabbit's foot, heads of the departments of the state would like to borrow it, as they see their departments reduced, rather than increased.

The National Safety Council is not a prohibition organization, but composed of men and women who take facts, analyse them, and present the results to the public. Those who have argued that drunkenness has not increased since the repeal of the 18th amendment are doomed to disappointment. This Council shows a decided increase in the number of car accidents, and that 10% of all fatal accidents are due to liquor; 60% of all accidents are due to the presence of liquor; that there has been an increase of 39% resulting in fatality among drivers, and 53% among pedestrians due to liquor; that the increase of non-fatal accidents is 50% among drivers, and 64% among pedestrians. Those who think they can drink and drive a car are making a serious mistake which may prove fatal to themselves, to some pedestrian, or wind up in a serious accident.

Today is the last day for making payment of your poll tax in order to cast a vote in any of the special elections which will be called this year. There is certain to be one constitutional amendment submitted on the prohibition question. Those who have not paid their poll tax should do so before night. Those who have property will have to pay the poll tax later, since it is a lien upon the property; but they will not receive a poll tax receipt with which they may cast their vote.

A real service has been rendered the farmers of Randall county in the past by County Agent W. H. Upchurch and the Chamber of Commerce in furnishing certified seed at cost. The average farmer could not get this certified seed excepting at very high prices were it not for the service which is being rendered. Mr. Upchurch buys the seed and handles it, while the Chamber of Commerce furnishes the money. This service is the result of having a County Agent who is doing a real service for the farmers of the county, and the desire of the community through the Chamber of Commerce to function for the benefit of the farmers of the county. Those who receive the benefits of this seed should keep this service in mind.

The public debt of the United States is $385 per capita. Over in England, the public debt is $991 per capita. It is not so much a matter as to the amount of the public debts as it is to what use has the government put the money. If all of it has gone to European countries which are refusing to pay even the interest, the average citizen would have a real kick. But a large part of the debt has gone to fight the depression, and from every indication the battle is pretty nearly won.

EDUCATIONAL TOURS TO BE THIS SUMMER

CREDIT ON COURSES SECURED THRU DEPARTMENT OF CORRESPONDENCE

An educational tour for this summer has been approved by the administrative officers of West Texas State Teachers College. The tour last summer proved so successful that there is a demand for a more extended one this summer. Therefore two tours have been planned, one embracing four weeks and the other six weeks.

Costs will be about $25 a week which will include all necessary expenses such as board, room, and transportation charges. The main difference between the tour last year and the one this year is that students wanting credit may secure such through the correspondence division of the college.

Another difference between the plans for this year's tour and that of last year is that girls will do the cooking instead of boys. Mrs. Frank R. Phillips will supervise the cafeteria.

The main trip this summer will be the same as the one last summer as far as Yellowstone, where those wishing the four-week trip may return home by the 1934 route. Those interested in the six-week's tour may continue Northwest to Spokane, Seattle, and Canada, down the west coast where points of interest as far south as Old Mexico will be visited. Then the members of the tour will return via the Grand Canyon of Arizona and either Santa Fe or Carlsbad.

Liberal stops will be be made at Yellowstone, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and the San Diego Exposition. Two-day stops will be made at such places as Colorado Springs, Denver, Estes Park, Teton Park and Grand Canyon.

Members of the educational tour last year have made most favorable comments on the trip, among which was that not so many people were along but that everyone could receive personal supervision.

The average man is willing to do almost anything to make money, except hard work.

Dr. J. A. Hill and Supt. Carruth Were Speakers

Dr. J. A. Hill and Superintendent Irby Carruth, of the Public School, were guest speakers at the Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Chillicothe Friday. Dr. Hill's topic of address was "Community Development and National Recovery."

He reports that many ex-students were seen at the meeting, among them were Mrs. C. L. Glazener, whose husband is president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. W. M. Gourley, whose husband is secretary of that organization. Mrs. Gourley furnished a part of the music for the program. Dr. Hill saw Jim Crowder, also an ex-student of this institution.

Inter-American Highway, Linking Arctic and Tropics, Nears Completion

CROWDED aside by other news events, a great project is nearing completion that will provide American tourists of the future with an "open sesame" to tropical jungles and Arctic glaciers. In a few years, without leaving this continent, any U. S. autoist will be able to view the scenic wonders of South America and Alaska alike.

Quietly, almost unheeded, roads are being built or improved that eventually will join in one long highway linking the Arctic Circle and Buenos Aires. Thanks to cooperation of the Americas and Canada, the 15,000-mile Inter-American highway is no longer the pipe dream it was a decade ago.

Right now, only 1800 miles of impassable roadway prevents a tourist from starting at Fairbanks, Alaska, and driving clear down to the Panama Canal. But little by little the bad stretches are being replaced by good, all-weather roads. Before long, this part of the great dream will be reality.

A tourist from the eastern part of the United States can even now drive over the best of American highways to Laredo, Tex., and from there directly to Mexico City over a high-class, three-year-old highway connecting Laredo with the Mexican capital.

The task remaining will be to connect and extend roads which now exist along the South American coastline. Thick, swampy jungles and irregular, mountainous land make this a huge, though not impossible, task.

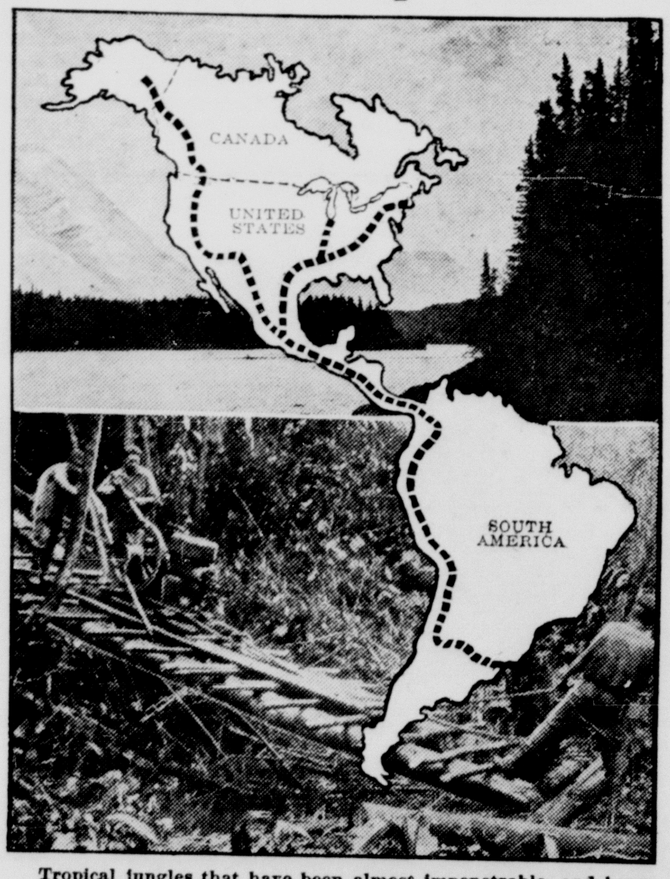
THE South American link of the inter-American highway is expected to stretch from Panama down the western coastline through Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Chile, turning east to Santiago to reach Buenos Aires. From there, a northern link connecting Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro is a distinct possibility.

Eventually, instead of stopping at Santiago, the inter-American highway will probably continue down to Cape Horn, southernmost point of the South American continent.

Within the next decade, perhaps, American tourists will be able to experience some of the sensations of Columbus when he reached the New World. A few of the attractions that will beckon them will be views of Popocatepetl and Ictaccihautl, Mexico's majestic, snow-capped peaks; Mount Orizaba, a duplicate of Japan's sacred Mount Fujiyama, except that it is three times as high; virgin, primeval forests; steaming tropical jungles; the mighty Amazon and Guanajuato, "Ancient City of Catacombs."

And if tourists who drive comfortably and leisurely over a smooth highway through Alaska should hear the noise of some subterranean commotion, they need not be alarmed. It will just be those prospectors who failed to survive tortuous Chilkoot Pass during the Alaskan gold rush, turning over in their graves.

Besides benefiting the tourist, the great inter-American highway is expected to prove invaluable in stimulating good will and trade between Uncle Sam and his neighbors.



Tropical jungles that have been almost impenetrable, and beautiful Alaskan scenes, will be viewed by the American autoist of the future when the great highway linking the Americas is completed.

Bunch of Promising Rookies Who Survived Their 1934 Baptism of Fire Now Face Dat Ole Devil "Second-Year Jinx"

BY PHILIP MARTIN

A HOST of youthful baseball players soon will head for southern training camps, to prepare blithely for the coming season, unaware that a nasty old jinx awaits them.

All too frequently a rookie has shone like a beacon light in his first semester under the big top, only, the year following, to slide into the minors. The Cleveland Indians could have commanded a fancy price had they wanted to peddle Carl Lind, second base sensation, during his first year. They didn't. Lind later proved a flash in the pan and slipped into baseball oblivion.

Johnny Vergez, who starred with the Giants when they copped the flag in 1933, was sold down the river to the Phils this winter. And so it has gone.

Often, this reversal of form has been due to a pitching or batting flaw which the enemy eventually discovered and passed down the baseball "grapevine." In 1933, opposing clouters suffered from astigmatism or something when Hal Schumacher, Giant hurler, stepped to the slab.

The following year the Cleveland tribe hit him for a fare-thee-well. Later in the season, some of the Indians tipped Hal off to a fault in his change of pace offering.

Will 1935 put a stumbling block in the way of many 1934 freshmen prizes? The Cardinals' success last year was due in a large part to the stellar work of that youthful battery, Paul Dean and Bill DeLancey. Can they slip by that crucial second year?

And how about Hal Trosky, huge Cleveland first sacker, who burned up the junior circuit last year? Outfielders Julius Solters of the Red Sox and Len Koenecke of the Dodgers; Cecil Travis, Senator infielder; and Eldon Auker, Tiger hurler, are others who would better keep their fingers crossed during 1935.

IT may be almost impossible for an athlete up in years to make a comeback, but Ralph Flanagan, aged 17, had no trouble doing it. At a recent Miami swimming meet, the lad crashed some 27 records, after a year of oblivion.

Discovered in 1926, the then 9-year-old natatorial prodigy was trained by Steve Forsyth, famed coach who developed Katharine Rawls. By 1931, he had broken his first national record. He was on the Olympic team in 1932, and, early in 1933, he bested Seattle's famed Jack Medica for the 500-yard national indoor free style title.

Then he deserted his coach, and sank from sight. This winter he joined Forsyth again, and trained faithfully for his comeback.

HANK GREENBERG, first sacker of the Tigers, was a crack cage star until fallen arches forced him to the sidelines . . . Earl Grace, Pirate receiver, has never stolen a base, though he's been in the majors five years . . . Gorilla Jones, sepia battler, is in training again after undergoing an operation for removal of a cataract.

Only Conference Game of Season This Week-End

Sul Ross State Teachers Of Alpine

Next Friday and Saturday the West Texas State Teachers College Varsity basketball team meet their only Lone Star Conference opponent of the year in the Sul Ross State Teachers College of Alpine.

This year the Buffaloes were accepted as an official member of the Lone Star Conference so as to protect their official amateur standing, but agreed not to ask for championship playoffs in football and basketball, since the distance between the schools were so great.

In the future other developments are expected but this year Sul Ross is the only conference opponent of the Buffaloes. In the Loboes, the Buffs are meeting a strong quintet, one that is expected to put up a stiff fight for conference honors.

Friday and Saturday will offer the first chance for fans to see how the Buffs of 1935 stack up against the members of their conference. In splitting the two series with Lubbock and Central the Buffaloes have shown that they are capable of playing on a par with two of the strongest college teams in this part of the country.

With five games behind them Captain McMinn made the statement that the Buffaloes were ready to play some consistently good basketball and are ready for the Loboes.

Coach Baggett offered to do his part in making the Buffs ready by seeing that they got some good hard work this week in order to improve some of the rough spots that showed up in the last two games. The games Friday and Saturday should be two of the most interesting of the season.

"Let the motor of your washing machine be the power behind the sausage grinder," says Mrs. I. L. Bauer, Co-operator of the Johnson Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Bauer's husband made an attachment for the sausage mill that would fit the washing machine when the wringer was removed. The meat grinder simply replaces the wringer by attaching to the shaft which normally runs the wringer. The normal speed of the rollers is about right for meat grinding.

This piece of equipment cost $2.00. Mrs. Bauer says that this attachment will save them many hours of hard grinding on meats used for sausage, chili and hamburgers.

"The cost of groceries from August 1 to January 1 has been $10.00," says Mrs. John Haines, Farm Food Supply Demonstrator of the Lakeside Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Haines planned and planted her garden so that she would have an adequate supply of fruits and vegetables to use fresh and a surplus to can.

She has on her pantry shelves to use during the unproductive months 649 quarts of meats, fruits and vegetables valued at $134.80.

"PARCHMENT" HAS PUBLISHED BREWER'S POEM

"THE BLIND PEDDLER" WAS COMPOSED WHILE SHE WAS HERE

In THE PARCHMENT, official publication of The American College Quill Club, Volume VI, Number 1, of November, 1934, Emil Brewer, last year's editor-in-chief of The Prairie, has a poem entitled "The Blind Peddler." Miss Brewer, who is a journalism student at the University of Missouri, visited at West Texas State Teachers College during the Christmas holidays, and during her visit, she addressed the Press Club members.

Her poem follows:

He came to our house
Once when we were very young
And stayed the whole
Of one bright August afternoon.

Dark, awe-inspiring goggles
Hid his sightless eyes; two massive
Suitcases held his stock in trade.

Opening them wide upon the parlor carpet
He showed us silks from Japan, and linen
From some island whose name's forgot—sweet
Smelling perfumes that sent us into ecstasy.

To our endless wonderment,
He never confused his wares,
Knowing, as if by magic, the color of each piece,
Where it came from, what the price,
Sensing by touch the things we recognize by sight,
Entertaining, with his sensitive fingers,
By calling Myria very pretty after he had
Touched her face.

We stood in transfixed awe of him,
Daring to laugh only once—a childish treble—
When he lost his shining scissors
And searched with flying fingers
Among the silks and linens
While they lay before him on the carpet
All the time.

Buffaloes Split Game With Central Okla. Teachers

By losing the first game Friday night to the Central Teachers of Edmond, Okla., in a thriller 28 to 31, and defeating the same Bronchos Saturday night by a ten point margin, 36 to 26, the West Texas Buffaloes split the series and assured the fans that they have a quintet to be reckoned with.

Last year the Bronchos made a clean sweep of their games with the Buffaloes, and with five lettermen back, including three regulars, they expected to do the same this year.

Coach Pat Taylor has a fast clever, experienced team, and thrilled the fans with their display of ability, but the Buffaloes remained not the least bit awed by the pace set by the Edmondites. In fact the Buffs did a little pace setting themselves.

Friday night was a close battle all the way through. Neither team was able to command a real margin throughout the entire first half. At the half-time the score was 15 to 16 in favor of the Bronchos.

In the second half the lead changed hands several times, and with but two minutes to go the Taylor men had a one point margin. The play was fast and furious and kept the crowd in an uproar.

The Buffs had several chances to win the game but missed two crip shots, several free pitches, and some field shots. Several times it seemed that the Buffs had made a goal but the ball would run around the ring and then come back out as if lifted by some force after the players had started back toward the center. Brent, lanky Broncho center dropped in a wild field shot to give Edmond a three point margin as the game ended.

Captain McMinn led the scoring for both sides with three field goals and three gratis tosses for nine shots.

The second game was clearly marked by the superiority of the Buffaloes. They took a six-point lead just before the end of the first half and were never headed. However, Prior, a fast guard for Coach Taylor, was a constant threat and never permitted the Buffaloes to let down. The final score was 36 to 26. Captain McMinn continued his scoring with 12 points to nose out Boedeker with 11, and Haught with 10 for scoring honors.

McMinn, Britt, Walker, Boedeker and Clark played the entire second game without a substitution, and all turned in good games.

Questionnaire Of Canyon Club In Hands Members

J. L. Duflot has been named as general supervisor of the Canyon City Club, and will have charge of the maintenance work of the club through this year.

A questionnaire has been mailed all members asking what kind of work they would like to have done at the club this year. At the meeting of the stockholders it was voted to raise the dues from $18 to $24 per year. This was found necessary if the club grounds are to be maintained at the standards required by the members.

Outside of donations of cash and labor, very little was spent on the golf course last year. The directors hope this year to make a number of improvements for the benefit of those who do not play golf, which would include a swimming pool, croquet grounds, picnic grounds.

A program of reforestration will be started, with sections of the grounds being given to members for planting of trees and other improvements.

No plan is being made for a new club house this year, but it is believed that if dues are paid promptly this year the building may be started next year.

West Texans Favor Sales Tax in Vote Taken of Leaders

STAMFORD, Texas, Jan. 29.—Based on a 7 to 1 affirmative reply on a referendum sent to its 212 directors and about 500 members of taxation and public expenditure committees in its 193 membership towns, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced today its advocacy of a 2 per cent sales tax for Texas, on the last retail sale, "providing the state uses the revenue equitably to fund the outstanding indebtedness of all cities, counties and schools, and providing the local ad valorem tax bills be reduced in accordance with the amount of debt relief secured."

The referendum ballot was the second recently sent out by the WTCC. In the first—in line with a recommendation by the Senate taxation committee headed by Sen. Arthur P. Duggan—directors and tax committeemen voted affirmatively, but by the close margin of 107 to 88, on a 2 per cent sales tax as an outright replacement for the present ad valorem or property tax. Meeting in Plainview, January 15, the officers' committee of the regional chamber counted the vote, and in view of its closeness tentatively announced it would favor a sales tax for funding the debt of three political subdivisions—cities, counties and schools—provided a clear-cut approval was given on a second referendum.

Real Estate Burdened

In announcing today the 7 to 1 decision, James D. Hamlin, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said:

"Real estate or visible property now bears practically all of the burden of city government, of county government, a large share of school government and a great per cent of state government. The average total assessed on real estate in these subdivisions of government is from $3.50 to $6 per $100 valuation. These taxes must be paid whether the property makes or does not make a return, otherwise these taxes are governmental liens upon such properties. Around $50,000,000 in taxes in West Texas are delinquent, and governmental liens exist against our property to that extent.

"It is proposed that the state with a sales tax will probably fund the debts of political subdivisions, now estimated to amount to $730,000,000. It is estimated that it takes 45 cents out of every ad valorem tax dollar to pay the interest and sinking fund on outstanding debts. If the state taxes cover the task of funding such an outstanding indebtedness a very substantial relief will be given to every ad valorem tax payer in the form of reduced taxes. A most important point of our program is making it mandatory on the political subdivision to reduce the tax bill in accordance with the relief secured; and our proposal is to write into the constitution a limit of 2 per cent on any sales tax that may be levied by the Legislature.

Would Be Supplementing Tax

"The proposition is a supplementing tax and not an additional tax. We are for the sales tax only as a means of relieving the ad valorem tax burden by debt paying, and we would be unalterably opposed to a sales tax if it were an additional tax."

The West Texas Chamber contends that a 2 per cent tax, based on retail sales in Texas of $2,000,000,000 (the 1929 figure), will produce from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 annually, which would completely amortize the $730,000,000 debt of political subdivisions in 40 years at 3 per cent interest.

"The original Duggan proposition that of supplanting the state ad valorem tax, which is only 25 cents, would afford only 6 per cent relief," said Hamlin's statement. "The West Texas Chamber of Commerce proposition would reduce the taxpayers' bill by 40 per cent and up, since most of the folks have a total ad valorem tax bill of $4 and higher in the combination of city, county, state and school taxes."

The bond-funding plan can be put into operation only through an amendment to the state constitution, and the West Texas Chamber proposes to work for that, Hamlin said.

Southern Art Club Will Show Forty Oil Paintings

Beginning Sunday and continuing until February 26, there will be an exhibit of forty oil paintings in the Mary E. Hudspeth Room of the Museum.

This is the twelfth Circuit Exhibition of the Southern States Art League, and is brought to Canyon by the College. It comes from Simmons University at Abilene and will be sent from here to C. I. A. at Denton.

All of the pictures in this exhibit are framed, and the Art Room will be well-filled, but not too crowded for the paintings to show advantageously.

Many of the artists whose work can be seen here are well known throughout the South because their pictures have been shown in previous exhibits. Although she is not exhibiting this year, Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the Art Department, has had pictures in several previous showings of the League.

The Southern States Art League has its headquarters in New Orleans; it exists to encourage and develop art appreciation and to assist Southern artists who are capable of doing fine work. Miss Robinson is a member.

The exhibit may be seen from two to six on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 9 | CANYON, TEXAS, JANUARY 31, 1935. | NUMBER 20

I was never so ashamed of anybody as I was ashamed of Do-Do Brasuel a few days ago. I was walking down the street, and Do Do was walking in front of me, and in front of him were a bunch of little first grade kids, and they said that Do Do was trying to kiss them. Why, I think he should be ashamed for at least two days.

Let me tell you, I never ate quite so much before as I did at that Press Club banquet. Why, I ate everything on my plate, even as to them long, slick, yellow looking things. I figured you was supposed to eat them like you do macaroni, and so I did, but one of them was so big that I couldn't hardly get it down. I finally drank three glasses of water, and it went down O. K., though.

You know that Mr. Dankay Usery that was at the banquet. Well, he sure is a likable chap, isn't he? I guess the reason the boys all like him is because he has lots of money, and the girls like him because he is so friendly, and he just sets around and winks at them all the time, nearly. Well, any way I think he's a mighty fine feller.

It was too bad Kate Donnell had to get her head cracked open. I certainly hope that none of her grey matter, as Mrs. Foster would say, fell out. Why, when I saw Kate the other morning I thought she had on a new hat, but it was just plain old adhesive tape.

Well, good-bye children, and from this day forward, I'm going to hope it's as pretty as it was last Friday afternoon.

Cactus Cal.

P. S.: Now don't you think the Eagles have a couple of good basketball teams since all those victories last week end?

TRITE HUMOR

Some people think that when they put together a collection of absurd, nonsensical ideas, they are producing humor.

Even in our own school, there are persons with the idea that they are being amusing and entertaining when they are "getting off" a bunch of supposedly witty sayings, but they are really just showing what a perilously small amount of common sense and initiative they possess. There is nothing that will brand one as being of low-breeding and of small intellectual ability as will the habit of always telling some wise crack of coarse humor or one at the expense of others.

ETIQUETTE

Q. Why should one avoid talking continuously on one topic?

A. Others will become bored if some conversational ability is not shown.

Q. Why should one be careful about asking personal questions?

A. Unless a person is an intimate friend, he might not wish to answer personal questions.

Q. Why should one be careful never to exaggerate?

A. People will tire quickly of exaggerations and find their companions elsewhere.

Canyon Cagers Win Double-header From Groom Friday

The Eagles won their second game from the Groom Tigers in a close and thrilling game here last Friday night by a score of 19 to 17.

The Tigers blocking in their offensive plays kept the Eagles bewildered until they learned to trade men and check the drive.

Solomon High Scorer

The Eagles were leading at the half with the score 11 to 9. Solomon, Eagle forward, was awarded scoring honors, having accounted for 15 points.

Eaglettes Win

The Eaglettes won a victory over the Groom lassies with the score 25 to 23.

The Canyon Sextet was far ahead at the close of the first period, but at the half they were leading by only one point. Clark, Groom forward, was responsible for the gain, having sunk several long shots in the second period.

The Eaglette forwards showed marked improvement in their team work; the guards, however, were handicapped by the absence of Cluck, Eaglette guard.

Kirkpatrick was high scorer of the game with Clark close behind.

Second Grades Visit Bourn's Dairy Saturday

In order to help them in the study of the industries of the community, the Second Grade, with their teachers, Mrs. Stella Murrell and Mrs. Ola Beeson, visited Bourn Bros. Dairy, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 26.

Thirty pupils were taken to the dairy in a school bus. The children showed much interest in the equipment and sanitary conditions of the dairy.

An employee showed the pupils how bottles are washed and sterilized, and also demonstrated the capping machine which bottles and caps 12 bottles in one minute.

Mrs. Murrell said, "The trip was planned and carried out in an attempt to enlarge the pupil's concept of their interdependence for food, clothing, and shelter, and to give them a basis for understanding present day social life."

The Ex-Eagles who attend W. T. S. T. C., have regained their old Eagle spirit and are now leading in the intramural tourney.

The squad is composed of eight men, including Bob Black, the manager, all of whom, with the exception of Herbert Slack, are Eagle lettermen. Two of these, T. V. Slack and Austin Cone, are former Eagle captains.

Other squad members are Alton Brasuel, one year letterman for the Eagles, Francis Elliston, two year letterman, George Brasuel and Willard Middleton, who served one year each for the Purple and White as excellent cagers.

New Fiction and Poetry Reviewed

By Winnie Dee Hicks

Attention—to those who like to read!

Now, those who like to read fiction of pioneer days, and those who do not, should read "We Must March" by Morrow. The book deals with the story life and its hardships of the people who migrated to the old Oregon Territory. The hostility of the Indians and English are also clearly depicted by the author.

The story ends giving the compromise between England and the United States, setting the boundary of Oregon and Canada.

To Poetry Lovers

The high school library also has "Selected Poems," by Robert Frost which will be a source of delight to lovers of poetry. The author selected poems which deal with love, life, nature, and work; thereby giving his readers a variety of his best poetry.

For Drama Readers

Those who like drama, and particularly short plays, should read "One-Act Plays" by Webber and Webster. These plays are selected from the most recent one-act plays written and produced. The authors compiled this anthology to give the students a number of one-act plays which cannot be found in other books of this type, and to assemble those which are suitable reading material for high school students.

M. Solomon, and Billy Bewley.

The sweaters will be heavy wool slip-over sweaters of southwestern purple wool with an eight inch white "C" trimmed in purple on the front. On the cuff of the sweater will be the name plate on which the full name of the player will be embroidered.

Grade Notes

Grade 1B and its teacher, Miss Frances Singleton, visited the W. H. Stroud Grocery Friday as a beginning of the grocery store unit of work. Mrs. Stroud explained how goods are priced and arranged on shelves, the cash register, and how to use the scales. This was to aid the pupils in their first project of making a grocery store.

Officers for 6A for the fourth six weeks were elected Friday. They are: President, Anna Ruth Schmitz; vice president, E. F. Hicks; secretary, W. J. Wooten; treasurer, Mary Bourn.

Since the Eagles won the two games last week-end there should be no reason why more people shouldn't come to see the Eagles in action during the last five games.

Solomon, Canyon forward, is one of the most outstanding men on the Eagles' team. He is high scorer on the squad, and out of nine on the squad, and has scored 67 points in nine games, an average of 7 points a game, which cannot be equaled by any team in the district.

The Eagles will be entered in the District Tournament at Amarillo February 25 and 26 to place their competitive strength against strong contenders in the district.

Perhaps you did not know that on February 16 the Eagles will be hosts to the Pampa Harvesters on the open date in the schedule.

A record crowd is expected for the Whiteface-Eagle battle Friday.

Meet The Eagles

This article is to acquaint the ones interested in the Eagles basketball team with the individual team members.

Two Letter Men

O. M. Solomon, a two year letter man says, "With a little more hustle from the players, we hope to win the remaining games on the schedule."

O. M. Solomon plays forward and has proved an outstanding player in the two years of high school competition.

Curtis Elliston, also a two year letter man, is playing his last year as guard. Curtis is fast and can pass, shoot, and dribble with a rare degree of skill.

Jack Taylor

Jack Taylor, a fast little forward, says, "We are looking forward to the district tournament and sincerely hope we will bring home the cup."

Jack is a returning squadman of 1934 and is a junior, having one more year in which to star for the purple and white.

Fulton at Center

Lawrence Fulton, six feet, five inch center, declared that the Eagles have a good chance to go somewhere in the district tournament.

Lawrence is a squadman of '34, and is playing regular center, and will be lost through graduation.

Wesley Cox believes that the Eagles will come through with flying colors at the end of the season. Wesley is a junior and has one more year with the Eagles.

Plays First Year

Thomas Harris, a sophomore who is playing his first year with the Eagles, plays forward. Thomas is a good shot from any position on the court and has a bright future before him as an Eagle star.

Ralph Rusk is a sophomore and is playing his first year with the team as guard. Ralph has two years in which to star for the Eagles.

C. L. Drummond, a sophomore who is playing forward, is a smooth little player who hustles all over the court.

Leslie Lisle is playing his first year with the Eagles as forward. Les is a junior and has one more year to go.

Willard Childers, a squadman of '34, is playing his last year at guard.

The pins are of yellow gold, with the small letters "36" attached by a small gold chain. The design is much the same as the one on the senior rings.

A second order will be made for the members who did not get their pins with the first order.

Eagles Defeat Vega Steers 29-5 at Vega Saturday Night

The Eagles scored a decisive victory Saturday night by defeating the Vega Steers 29 to 5 at Vega.

The Eagles were leading 13 to 3 at the close of the first half, and scored 13 points in the third quarter.

Second Team Plays

At the beginning of the final quarter Coach Cleveland Jones sent in the second team. Although the second team succeeded in scoring only three points, they held their opponents to two points.

Girls Win 29 to 23

The Eaglettes won over the Vega girls by a smaller margin than the Eagles.

With two forwards absent from the squad, the Vega girls succeeded in keeping even with the Eaglettes until after the first half when the Eaglettes began to run up a score.

Kirkpatrick of Canyon took scoring honors.

EAGLES ENGAGE HEREFORD HERE IN RETURN TILT

EAGLES AND EAGLETTES LOSE TO WHITEFACES ON HEREFORD COURT TWO WEEKS AGO

The cage teams of Canyon High School will meet their old rival, Hereford, tomorrow night; both teams were defeated once by Hereford this season, and are out for revenge.

The Eagles played at a disadvantage two weeks ago at Hereford because of the small gymnasium, and unusually slick floor.

The Whitefaces have had a very successful season having defeated Amarillo, Tulia and Friona. The team is noted for its strong defense, and a thrilling game is expected for the fans.

With Arneta Kirkpatrick, Eaglette forward on the shelf, the girls also underwent a defeat at the hands of Hereford two weeks ago.

Next week the Eagles are hosts to the Tulia hornets on Friday, and play the Happy Cowboys Saturday.

Hills, Miners, Cowboy Topic Poems by McGee, Ex-Student

Word has recently been received from D. B. McGue, an ex-student of Canyon High School and journalist-author through Miss Columbia Redfearn who was graduated from high school with him in 1903. Mr. McGue writes that although he is not at the present connected with any newspaper or news service permanently, he is now free lancing and is planning to spend the rest of the winter writing a 100,000 word history of western Indian tribes.

Mr. McGue seems to have spent some time among the Indians. An excerpt from his letter reads: "I expect to spend the next few weeks on the Ute Indian reservation, near here, (Durango, Colorado). Am endeavoring to get biographical data from the last remaining chief of the tribe, Buckskin Charley. He can't and won't be hurried. Talks when he gets ready."

Mr. McGue also enclosed some of his poetry. According to Mr. McGue, "Most of the poems have been used in feature stories covering the subjects indicated by titles. I deal with the desert a bit; hills, miners, prospectors, cowboys, flowers, etc., also come in for their share of libeling."

The following are a few examples of his poems:

Desert Graveyard

A little desert graveyard,
Deserted and alone:
Graying slabs of weathered wood,
Or sunken, mossy stone.

Neglected tombs of moulding dust,
This lonely groundplot holds;
Forgotten graves, forgotten dust,
Mayhap, forgotten souls.

—D. B. McGue.

Have You?

Have you seen the
Tourist mamas
In their
Red and green
Pajamas?
And the dapper
Tourist flappers,
In their pink and
Purple wrappers,
Bifurcated,
Decorated,
By the mountain
Breeze inflated?
Have you viewed the
Fat ones and
The tight ones?
The pajamas overstuffed?
Have you noticed, too
The slight ones,
The plain ones and
The ruffed?
Oh, do not look askance
At the lurid, flowered pants.
They are merely
Self expression
They enliven the Depression,
As with many a
Sportive caper
In these nethers of
Wall-paper
The somewhat frowzy
Mamas
Exhibit their
Pajamas
As they journey in
The flivver
With a dislocated
Liver—

On the road to Otherwhere.

Condron Makes Address Before Open Forum Club

Professor S. H. Condron, Head of the Government Department of West Texas State Teachers College, addressed those assembled in the Amarillo High School Auditorium last night, at 8 o'clock on the "New Voters" program. The subject of Mr. Condron's address was "The New Voter Takes Charge."

The program was sponsored by the Open Forum Club of Amarillo and supported by a number of other civic clubs and organizations and was given for those who are attaining their majority this year. "Honoring the New Voter" has been the slogan of the affair in its publicity campaign. The discussions are open to the general public, and a number of the county and city officials were expected to be present.

Mr. Condron is also scheduled to make an address before the Federated Clubs of Deaf Smith County in Hereford on February 5. "Adult Education" will be the text of Mr. Condron's speech. Mr. Condron will stress the value of education to those who have been "out in the walks of life" for the past few years.

The meeting in Hereford is being held for the purpose of creating interest in the county library there and arousing interest in adult education in that section, Mr. Condron said.

Smiles During Fight for Life

Startled out of the remarkable stolidity he had maintained since his arrest, as more and more incriminating evidence heaped up against him in his trial on the charge of murder of the Lindbergh baby, Bruno Richard Hauptmann is shown above as he conferred, anxiously, with his attorney, Edward J. Reilly. Facing cameramen, Hauptmann, below, masks his concern with a steely smile.

This Week's Patterns

TOTS will love the pretty new frocks of challis, Pattern 362. The freedom of movement which children like is furnished by the smart pleats that hang so straight below the drop yoke; and the perky puff sleeves are very neat. Patterns available in sizes 4 to 10 years. Size 8 calls for 2⅛ yards of 35-inch fabric and ⅓ yard contrast. These easy-to-make dresses are splendid in washable cottons, crepes, or woolens.

For the mature of figure, few frocks are as becoming as the trimly tailored one, Pattern 375. The soft ruffling can be omitted without detracting from the modish excellence of this model. Patterns come in sizes 36 to 52. Size 44 requires 5 yards of 39-inch crepe, satin or woolen, and ⅝ yard contrasts for the ruffles.

tion, and wish to commend the county judge and commissioners' court for the new improvements, the wash room and toilet for men, and the new office for the county agent. These improvements were much needed. We trust the new improvements made in the men's wash room will be so appreciated by the public, that no drastic measures will be found necessary in keeping this place clean and sanitary. We recommend to the City Council that whenever it may be deemed expedient, a vent be placed in the city jail.

We also wish to say that we found the city jail in a very unsanitary condition, and also found the heating conditions unsatisfactory, due to the fact that there is no proper manner in which the jail is ventilated; and we wish to recommend, that in addition to the installation of an adequate system of ventillation, that more care be taken to the end that the jail be kept clean and sanitary.

We wish to commend the sheriff and his assitants, the constable and chief of police for the efficient work done in apprehending law violators. We wish to thank the county attorney, district attorney, and his assistant, for the services rendered with us since we have been in session.

Feeling that we have thoroughly investigated all cases coming before us, and since there is nothing further to consider, we respectfully ask that we be discharged for the term.

Respectfully submitted,
R. B. GIST,
Foreman of Grand Jury.

into this wall with the native rock and petrified wood which was gathered along the Canadian River during the fall months and hauled to the campus. When the recreation hall is completed, work will be resumed on the rooms which will house the men.

Another crew of men are working to complete the west side of the Burton Gymnasium where a handball court and recreation rooms are being built under the bleachers.

Other men are engaged in removing the board fences around the Buffalo Stadium and digging the trenches for the construction of the rock wall which is included in the project.

Coach Al Baggett states that a number of other projects are being contemplated for the campus, and will be submitted to the State Relief office as the present ones near completion.

Changing Schools

culum with a view of improving the schools. Mr. Carruth stated that the changes are being made as a result of the public for better trained graduates in solving the economic and social problems which confront the world.

The school leaders are working on the assumption that the schools have not done as much as they could. Some parents have demanded that the schools give the children as many facts as possible; others that the schools make it easier for the boys and girls to make a living. The movement now is that the children study the social order in which they live, in order to develop the best citizens. The chief objective is to develop boys and girls who can think for themselves.

"The schools are trying to catch up, realizing that they are away behind in the world's progress," stated Mr. Carruth. The teachers are being trained to look at the child first and the subject matter next.

Visitors present were: Cal Farley, Horace Griggs, Roy Greenhill, of Amarillo; J. W. Shanklin of Pecos; C. H. Jarrett and Rev. W. H. Bessire of Canyon.

Agent's Office

government has started its relief program. Nearly a half million dollars were distributed to the farmers and stockmen through this office during the past year. Of this amount the wheat growers received $301,285.25; the stockmen and farmers through the sale of surplus cattle, $139,681.00; the hog raisers, $44,047.75; and the cotton farmers $1,709.90.

In addition to the above distributions, the County Agent supervises the feed and seed loans which are being made by the government, which amount to a considerable volume of business during the course of a year. The distribution of certified seed is another service which has been rendered through co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce.

The increased facilities of the office have been greatly needed during the past months with all of the added duties which have been given the County Agent through these various governmental relief agencies.

The furniture is being moved to the office during this week so that Mr. Upchurch feels confident he will have the new office completely arranged by the end of this week.

U. S. May Save Town Doomed by Mine Fire

Threatened with extinction by an underground mine fire that has smouldered for 50 years, the town of New Straitsville, O., has asked the government to save it. Rich coal seams, ignited during an 1884 mine strike, have burned sullenly ever since. The earth about the town has been honeycombed, house foundations have been undermined, and property values have almost vanished. PWA men may be put to work to quench the fire. Gases, smoke and flames shown above issuing from a hillside near New Straitsville hint at the vast inferno underneath.

Farm Pond Group Will Gather In Plains Meeting

The Great Plains Farm Pond and Terracing Association is calling a regional meeting in Amarillo on February 8th.

This meeting will be held in the Crystal Ball Room of the Herring Hotel. The morning session will at 10:00 o'clock, and the afternoon session at 1:30.

Irvin R. Buchanan, vice president of the association, advises that the following speakers have promised to be present:

Judge W. H. Sewell, Follett, President of the Association.

S. M. Evans, Regional Advisor, Rural Rehabilitation, Southwest States, Marshall.

Harley A. Daniel, Acting Director of the Experiment Station, Goodwell, Okla.

H. H. Finnell, Agronomist, Department of the Interior, Dalhart.

J. B. Keely, Chief Engineer, Texas Relief Commission, Austin.

W. H. McPeters, Extension Engineer, Stillwater, Okla.

W. R. Bentley, Terracing Specialist, A. & M. of Texas.

J. E. Gaston, Tree Planning and Highway Beautification, State Highway Department, Amarillo.

Purpose of the association is to bring about the building of ponds and the general terracing of all farm lands with a view to retain all moisture that falls in the form of rain or snow.

It is believed this is a movement that will not only interest farmers, county agents, agricultural teachers, relief administrators, but business men of all professions, and it is urged that each community have a large delegation.

Ex-Bonus Army Chief in U. S. Job

Walter W. Waters, head of the bonus army routed from the capital in 1932, is pictured at work in the War Department at Washington. General Douglas MacArthur, who headed the troops which dispersed the "army," gave him the job.

The trouble with some people who have religion is that they spend most of their time trying to settle the affairs of their neighbors.

Doing work ahead of time is one of the hardest things the average man or woman undertakes, but it is an effort that pays rewards.

Boys From Here May Work On Erosion Project

The Agriculture Department of West Texas State Teachers College has been asked to submit the names of eight men to work on the Dalhart Soil Erosion Project. However, the names of these boys are not yet known.

The work would chiefly be field work whereby trainees would support themselves while on the project. The maximum amount of work permitted a week is forty hours, but H. H. Finnell who is regional director of the project feels that trainees will not likely be afforded this much work because of interfering weather conditions and limitations as to kind and amount of work available at different times of the year.

The purpose of this work is merely to afford an opportunity for agricultural graduates or majors in agriculture to familiarize themselves with erosion control methods applicable in wind erosion control science so that they will be better qualified to accept permanent appointment in the expanded erosion service program.

Mr. Finnell says, "It would appear that the government is seriously concerned about problems of conservation of natural resources, and I do know that erosion control occupies a prominent position in the development program, which is to be submitted to the present session of congress."

Arrangements for the beginning of the work will probably not begin until the first or fifteenth of February.

Smiles at Kidnapers' Fate

Edward G. Bremer, right, St. Paul, Minn., banker, was nothing if not pleased at the news that Arthur (Doc) Barker, bottom left, had been caught by federal agents, and that the law was closing in on Alvin Karpis, top left, newest "Public Enemy No. 1," and Harry Campbell, center. With Fred and "Ma" Barker, "Doc's" brother and mother recently slain by U. S. agents in Florida, the three represented remnants of the gang which is suspected of kidnaping Bremer a year ago.
